The latest watermelon raids made on our office, were made by Del. Cummings and Horace Moon. They were successful raids. The fruit went into the composing room, Bob.

Yes, it did; and from there into O. W. and A. C.—Comp.

Prof. W. F. Werschke, who is well and favorably known to many of our citizens, is holding a musical institute at the M. E. Church. Those who desire instruction in vocal music will seldom have a better opportunity to obtain it. Prof. W. is way up in his business.

An open meeting of Paw Paw Grange will be held, Friday evening, Oct. 12th, at which the following programs will be presented: Our Grange store, A. C. Glidden. Select reading, Anna Gilman Sutton. Through the great West, E. Warner. Discussion, The Farmer's Relation to other Callings, led by G. E. Breck. All are invited.

The "boys" had the engine out for practice, last Tuesday evening, under the charge of Ab., the new chief.

The family of J. S. Tuckey Esq., removed to their new home in Illinois, on Thursday, of last week, and not on the previous Monday, as stated by the Courier. Strange as it may appear, even that sheet, which is always so ready to criticize its neighbors, is itself liable to make mistakes.

On Monday evening last, there was a lottery at the Grange store, the prize being a fine cornet. It was won by "Elder Tongs," of the sextette band. A report was in circulation that "Billy the Kid" had committed matrimony, and the boys said Tongs got the horn to make music at the Kid's wedding.

There were thirty two teachers examined at Hartford, on Saturday last. The following is a list of the successful ones. Second grade: Helen H. Rogers and Chas. E. Sweet. Third grade: Cora M. Barber, John O'Leary, Etell Davis, Eleena Green, Joel Horton, Alison Ives, Belle Richards, Cora Sprague, Fred Sisson and Nellie Lytle.

Samuel Hopping, Esq., of Bangor, made us a pleasant call on Wednesday last. He desires to state, in reply to what our Grange correspondent said a few weeks since, that he verily believes there are a good many prominent men, even members of the Grange, who would accept a free pass over the railroads, for a thousand miles and return, if they had a chance.

Died—Mrs. Hinkley, widow of Rev. Jonathan Hinkley, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Allen, Sept. 30, 1882, at 10 o'clock p. m. The deceased was born in New York, on the 30th day of November, 1791, and was 90 years and 10 months old. Her husband died at Breedsville, 27 years ago.

Mrs. Hinkley had been thrice married, and was the mother of four children, Mrs. H. S. Allen, William Moore, James Moore and Alexander Lytle. Two of these children are left to mourn for her, while two had passed on before. In early womanhood Mrs. Hinkley became a christian, and was a member of the F. W. Baptist church. Her christian life was an ample preparation for her future home. She suffered greatly during the last year of her life, but passed away with the name of Jesus on her lips.

The premium list occupies so much space in our paper that we have no room for an extended report of our County Fair. In many respects the show was very good indeed, while in others, notably that of fruit, it was not up to the usual standard. The display of vegetables was exceedingly fine. Financially, the fair was a success, there being something over six hundred dollars left after paying premiums and expenses, which will enable the society to make a handsome payment on their grounds. The competitive drill between the Posts of the G. A. R., was confined to Ellsworth Post of Hartford, and Broadhead Post of Paw Paw, the first premium being awarded to the former, and the second to the latter. One of the beautiful displays in Floral Hall was that of W. J. & R. Sellick, dry goods merchants of this place, and it did them much credit and attracted a good deal of attention. A game of base ball was played in the afternoon of the last day, between the Lawton's and a picked up nine from Paw Paw. Game was called at the close of the 5th inning, the score standing 10 to 2 in favor of the Lawton's.

Hartford.
Fred Wolsey is again at the front. We are all glad to see him, even if he does look a little shadowy.

Mrs. H. M. Stacy, of this place, brought home the "blue" on her collection of paintings, which she exhibited at the fair.

The Soft Hitters and High Kickers have a match game of ball this (Friday) p. m. Wm. Bennett and Chas. Hillard, captains.

The Weekly Record made its first appearance last Friday. It is edited by R. E. O'Neil of this place, and J. M. Hall of Watervliet, and is destined to be a success.

Prof. Upton, of Decatur, delivered a very fine lecture at the Baptist church, last Friday evening. Subject—War and its Preventatives. He is an excellent speaker.

Lawton.

The fair dance last Friday was a success. N. O. Martin has moved in Ellison Johnson's house.

Dr. McKinney is keeping teachers' hall, his wife being on a visit in Ohio.

Thirty-two wagons at one time waiting to unload peaches and grapes at the depot, one day last week.

The M. C. R. R. is making extensive improvements putting down new track, so as to straighten the line, and moving the coal shuttles.

B. J. Deesenberg bought a balloon at the fair, last week, and in the evening attempted to make an ascension. Fears were entertained that he might land in Lake Michigan, but his bay-window kept him down.

Kendall.

The hotel has changed hands. John C. Cragin is the proprietor.

Chas. Veley has rented his store building to a Bloomingdale chap, for a saloon.

Farmers in this vicinity have raised large quantities of sorghum, which they are now manufacturing into molasses.

Gobleville.

Mr. Herron has returned from the north, where he went to get rid of Hay fever.

Fred Daniels, of Berlamont, lost his only child, a little girl of two years, a few days since.

Our people, with others, have petitioned the railroad company to divide their freight and passenger traffic, and to give us four passenger trains each day. We have hopes of a favorable answer.

Observer's Observations.

Corn crop big.

Wheat a little off.

Hartford has got a big cabbage.

The drunks are all quiet again.

They are all going to the Exposition.

The grape crop is large this season.

Now is the time to make your sauer kraut.

Col. Wm. R. Hawkins is rusticiating at the East.

Brad. Stanton, of Almena, moves into town this week.

A terrible hard winter, say the chronic grumblers.

The days of buckwheat cakes and sausages are fast approaching.

A Mr. Langdon, recently from New York, has removed to this village.

C. A. Harrison sold a Young Wilkes colt to a Plainwell man, for $400.

Charley Flanders and John Sirrine started for Dakota, last Tuesday morning.

Sorghum molasses has quietly put in an appearance. The crop is abundant.

Capt. Hendry's weekly diary is still being published in the Press and Courier.

Died—In Waverly, Sept. 28th, 1882, Im Culver, aged 93 years, 8 months and 23 days.

Wilson Lee, the Union House man, has sold his 40 acre farm, near the Lee school house, to Nathan Baker, for $2,000.

Drunks were out in full force during the fair, and many went home with heavy hearts and light pockets, while some took free lodgings in the cooler.

An honest granger was in town the other day, and wept great tears because he could not get $4.50 per bushel for his peaches. He has our sympathy.

The Courier says, "C. A. Harrison went last night to Lansing to attend the supreme court," but he didn't. It don't do to "most always" pin your faith on what that paper says.

Henry M. Cook's horse met a big bull that was being led home from the fair, when he jumped into a ditch and kicked the buggy to Davy Jones'. (We mean the horse jumped, not the bull.)

Only two hogs and five pigs on exhibition at the fair this season. Hurrah for George D. Boyce, for President. We want men who have fine stock and who will put it on exhibition, as George did. Hurrah!

Rufe Nash is putting on lots of style with a nobly single harness recently purchased of Forsyth & Cook, and a high stepper bought of C. A. Harrison. Rufe says he intends to take in the Downgrade fair, and show them that an ex-editor of a Greenback paper can put on as much style as any of them.

An Almena man complained to our fat J. P. the other day, that one of his neighbors met him one night, not long since, and stabbed him in his right side with an old jack knife, cutting a hole so that you could look in and see his liver beat. A warrant was issued, but the stabber had left for parts unknown.

A gentleman from Gobles, a barber by occupation, came to town on Wednesday last, and complained to one of our magistrates, that the boys of that burg did not respect his rights, as an American citizen, but tore down his signs, smashed melons against his shop, and put other indignities upon him. His complaint was entertained and the Goble gentlemen(?) will be interviewed by the officers of the law.

A short time since we said in this column that Mrs. Jones had some fine Australian ferrets for sale, that she was an honorable dealer etc. A day or two after, we passed by her residence and saw her cellar door nailed to a tree in front of her house, on which was inscribed, in bold, plain letters, the statement that we were the biggest liar that ever was, and if the readers of the NORTHERNER would step in she would prove it to them. Mary, why is this? Explain.
